Jerry Lee Smith Gets School Work While In The Hospital

Modern day science has progressed to the extent that Jerry Lee Smith is going to school, in spite of the fact that he is to be hospitalized for several weeks. Jerry, the son of Mrs. Opal Ann Smith of 304 South 11th street, is 15 years of age and a freshman at Murray High School. His condition is satisfactory, although his convalescence will be for an extended period following an injury to his right hip.

According to the nurses at the hospital, Jerry is a serious student and a number of persons combined their talents to assist him in keeping up with his class in school.

Young Jerry is in constant two way communication with his classmates and teachers in two different class rooms through equipment installed at the class rooms and his hospital room. This equipment installed by the local Telephone company enables Jerry to take part in each of his classes and it is reported that Jerry is doing his own home work with-

Parish Mission To Be Held By Church

A Parish Mission will be held at St. Leo's Catholic Church, beginning Sunday morning, Feb. 25, and ending Saturday, March 3. The Mission will be conducted by Rev. Arthur Colby, pastor of the Catholic Church at Opelika, Alabama.

Services will be held each morning and evening. Father Colby will speak at both the 8 and 11 o'clock Masses on Sunday morning. Evening services Sunday through Friday, will be held at 7:30. Masses will be offered each day, Monday—Friday at 6:30 a.m. and at noon. On Saturday, the Masses will be at 6:30 and 10:45 a.m. Father Colby will speak at each service.

A Catholic Mission consists of a week or longer of special lectures on religion and its application to personal and daily life. A distinguished speaker is usually chosen for this work.

He is called a "missionary," in the sense that he is sent to the people of a parish to help promote and increase their devotion toward their religion. It is customary for persons of other faiths to attend the services during the Mission. The public is cordially invited to all the exercises to be held at the Parish Mission at St. Leo's Church during the coming week.

Ted Causes Some Anxious Moments

BERLIN (UPI) — U. S. officials had some anxious moments Friday when Edward Ted Kennedy, youngest brother of President Kennedy, visited East Berlin and was more than an hour late getting back.

But they breathed a sigh of relief when the 30-year-old Suffolk County Boston assistant district attorney stroked back across the border and nonchalantly told them "We just walked around."

Kennedy, accompanied by Frank Meehan of the U. S. State Department, entered East Berlin by subway and walked back.

Meehan said East Berlin police knew who Kennedy was because "I told them." The Communist guards treated Kennedy politely when they learned he was the President's brother and they waived border currency controls.

Young Kennedy said "there were no difficulties" during his East Berlin visit. He said he was deeply impressed by the grimness of the eastern, Communist-ruled side of the city compared to the vitality and brightness of West Berlin. He said he chatted with an East Berlin student at the Communist exhibition on Karl Marx Allee, the former Stalin Allee.

"What I saw over there demonstrated the sterility of the Communist way of life," Kennedy said.

Charles Eldridge And Family Will Attend Luncheon

Charles Eldridge and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Eldridge, of Murray route five will be in Louisville today for the Courier-Journal award luncheon.

Young Eldridge won an expense paid trip and a $50 savings bond as the Purchase District winner in a contest sponsored by the newspaper.

Also attending the luncheon will be Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Madrey. Madrey, who operates a 140 acre woodland on Murray route one, won second place in the 1961 Tom Wallace Farm Forestry Awards competition.

Madrey has operated his woodland for more than 20 years and has had it under a management plan since 1955. At present he is county extension leader, chairman of the Forestry Fire Prevention Association, and assistant forestry fire warden.

Eldridge is a member of the College High Future Farmers where he has achieved an outstanding record and received recognition at both state and national levels.

Murray took a first period 17-11 advantage and was never headed in registering the win. Tommy Wells and Richard Hurt bagged 19 apiece for Murray. Tommy Mathis led the losers with 18 markers.

Heart Sunday Volunteers To March At One

The Heart Sunday Volunteers will be on the march beginning at one p. m. tomorrow to give every resident of Murray a personal opportunity to fight the nation's Number One health enemy — the heart and blood vessel diseases. Mrs. Howard Ollis Heart Sunday chairman said.

Over one hundred Murray Woman's Club members will visit homes in every section of the city to accept contributions for the 1962 Heart Sunday Fund, and as educational ambassadors, to distribute pamphlets containing heart-saving facts.

"In addition to distributing this important information on new advances in the fight against the heart diseases," Mrs. Ollis said yesterday, "the Heart Fund volunteer will accept all gifts to help strike a blow at the diseases which took more than 600,000 American lives last year—54 percent of the total number of deaths in this country."

Where the volunteer finds no one at home, she will leave a pre-addressed mail-in envelope in which a contribution may be sent conveniently to the Heart Sunday Fund headquarters during the next few days.

"Heart Sunday is that special day of the year on which we ask you to recall all you have read and heard about the cardiovascular diseases," Mrs. Ollis said.

"The decision is yours because it is your contribution that makes possible the attack on the heart problem. By the size of your gift you help determine the amount of research that can be worked on to seek new knowledge, and the extent to which the benefits of heart research can be passed on to your physician, to serve you, your family and your neighbors," she explained.

Heart Sunday captains for Murray are Messian Buford Hurt, John Ed Scott, C. C. Lowry, David Gowans, Robert Baar, Harold Glenn Doran, Robert Hornsby, J. I. Hosick, John T. Irwin, Bob Ward, Phillip Mitchell, Rob Huie, Bill Warren, John C. Winter.

Before leaving the divided city, Kennedy said he was "impressed with the courage and spirit of the Berliners. I think there is no question that Berlin and the whole Western world will prevail."

His younger brother, Edward Ted Kennedy, flew here with the attorney general and his wife. They planned to remain in the capital for 24 hours before flying on to Amsterdam Friday.

He waved back but did not enter the Eastern sector as his younger brother, Ted, did Friday.

The attorney general, accompanied by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and Maj. Gen. Albert E. Watson, commandant of the U. S. Berlin garrison, planted his feet firmly on the white line which marks the East-West Berlin border and faced the Communist "wall of shame."

Miss Lilly Finalist In Merit Program

Sandy Lilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Lilly, and a senior at Murray High School, has been named finalist in the 1961-62 National Merit Scholarship Corporation Program according to information received by Principal Fred Schultz.

Merit Scholars will be selected from this group and announced in the spring.

Besides being an honor student, Sandy is active in many projects as the school. She is a member of the Glee Club, on the Annual staff, and treasurer of Tri-H-Y.

Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, wound up a triumphal two-day visit to West Berlin and flew here aboard an Air Force Constellation.

Before leaving the divided city, Kennedy said he was "impressed with the courage and spirit of the Berliners. I think there is no question that Berlin and the whole Western world will prevail."

Red Police Watch

Watching him were 13 Communist police who manned a post at the West's checkpoint. A dark-robed captain and lieutenant were among them. Only sidearms were visible, but West Berlin police said two Communist policemen armed with machine pistols were stationed behind the wall.

Dozens of East Berliners watched the attorney general from apartment windows as he inspected the wall. Several waved at him although East Berliners are discouraged from showing any friendliness to Western visitors.

Kennedy scanned the apartment house windows alertly and tried to return every greeting.

First Day Covers For Orbit Stamp Are Now Available

A 4-cent stamp commemorating the first orbital flight of a United States astronaut was issued on Feb. 20th, 1962, simultaneously with the completion of the flight, according to Edmund D. Fenton, Acting Postmaster.

The stamp portrays a capsule in space with a portion of the earth in the lower left corner of the design. The wording "4c U. S. MAN IN SPACE" is superimposed over the globe and "PROJECT MERCURY" is across the bottom of the stamp.

The 4-cent Project Mercury commemorative stamp is 0.84 by 1.44 inches in dimension, arranged horizontally, printed on the Giori presses in blue and yellow on white paper, and issued in pairs of 50. An initial printing of 100 million has been authorized.

This stamp is being released at 300 of the larger post offices throughout the country immediately upon the successful conclusion of flight. However, the official first day cancellation will be Cape Canaveral, Florida, a temporary station of the Cocoa, Florida, post office, being established for the one day.

Provisions have been made for collectors to obtain envelopes bearing the new stamp with the cancellation "Cape Canaveral, Florida," the date and hour of recovery of the capsule, and the wording "First Day of Issue," from the Philatelic Sales Agency, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D. C., at 1-cent above the face value of the stamp involved. Thus the cost of a cover bearing a single stamp will be 5-cents, a block of four 17-cents, etc. Orders to the Philatelic Sales Agency for these special covers must include no other issues and outer envelopes should be endorsed "Project Mercury Covers," to expedite service. Orders for first day covers should not be sent to Cape Canaveral, Florida.

Calloway Falls To Lowes Last Night

Calloway High again demonstrated its strength to top-ranked Lowes last night as the Blue Devils felt the Laker pressure in slipping past the stubborn challenge for a 52-47 win. The victory, their 30th of the season, came on the Blue Devils' home court.

It was the last regularly scheduled game of the season for most clubs in the area last night as they sharpened up for their respective district tournaments that get underway next week. The Fourth at Murray opens Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The Lakers never led in the contest but played "heads up" ball that kept them close to the Lowes pace. Calloway played without the services of Jimmy Wilson or Mickey Boggess.

Don Curd led Calloway's scoring with 19 points. Billy Chumblor paced Lowes with 18 tallies.

To Be Given Parade Offered Usually Just To Heads Of State

By JOHN G. WARNER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. rides through cheering crowds Monday to an honor that has not been bestowed on anyone but military leaders and heads of state since World War II.

Glenn will be at the head of a 43-minute parade along flag-draped streets lined with blaring bands from the White House to Capitol Hill.

Congress will greet him with a joint meeting—something that has not been accorded to anyone but top generals and foreign heads of state since May 21, 1945.

The last man of lesser rank to be received by a joint meeting was T-Sgt. Jake William Lindsey of Isney, Ala., who was misplaced and barely found in time to attend his own reception.

Winter Hits North With Snow And Ice

By United Press International

Winter smacked the northland from coast to coast with snow and freezing rain today, while Dixie recovered from a rash of tornadoes and wind-whipped rainstorms.

Heavy snow warnings shot up from northern Ohio to western New York as the storm that dumped up to 7 inches of the white stuff on the Midwest moved eastward toward New England. Bradford, Pa., was blanketed with 1 inch of snow during the night while 5 inches fell on South Bend, Ind., Cleveland and Akron, Ohio, and Olean, N. Y.

Braces For Snow

The snow lingered as far south as Kansas and Missouri. St. Joseph, Mo., braced for up to eight inches of snow today, while Athens, Kan., dug out from beneath the same amount, which fell Friday.

To the west, scattered snow swirled from the northern Pacific coast during the night across the Rockies and into the north and central plains.

The added misery of sub-zero cold plagued the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana, with Cutbank in the latter state recording 14 below. Collier temperatures were in store for the Great Plains today.

Rains Soak Pennsylvania

To the south of the snowy belt Friday night, heavy rains soaked part of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. More than an inch was recorded at Lockbourne Air Force Base in Columbus, Ohio, Parkersburg, W. Va., and Pittsburgh, Pa.

The storms, which lashed Dixie Friday carried tornadoes into Mississippi. The windy violence leveled three buildings and caused an estimated $75,000 damage in Hammond, Miss. Another twister demolished five homes and damaged 40 other structures in two small communities near the state's border with Tennessee, which was struck from west to east by the hard rains and damaging winds.

Big Drum Provides Thrill For Two

C. R. and Wezzie Outland of Clarksville had a great time Friday night. The two were river using a white-tail and shrimp for bait when she hooked something larger than she had ever experienced.

After fighting the fish for several minutes, she turned the rod over to C. R. who carried the battle for thirty minutes more before a large drum was landed.

The monster weighed thirty one and one-half pounds and was thirty-eight inches long. Wezzie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miles of Calloway County.

By OSCAR FRALEY

HIALEAH (UPI) — One swallow doesn't make a summer, nor does the first distance effort of the three-year old colts make a Kentucky Derby winner, but you can't sell that to Ismael Valenzuela today.

"Right now, Sir Gaylord looks like he can take them all," said the Panamanian jockey. "He's a great colt and he might wind up one of the greatest."

The mahogany bullet looked it, too, as he cantered home in the $25,000 added Everglades at Hialeah race course Wednesday.

And you also must take into consideration that Valenzuela has ridden such horses as Round Table and Tim Tam.

The Everglades was a full fledged barometer of what to expect in the big races ahead—such as the $100,000 added Flamingo at Hialeah on March 3 and the later triple crown classic composed of the Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

Beats Ridan

There still were high hopes for a colt called Ridan going into this one. Ridan won all seven races as a two-year old and started victoriously this year to make it 8-0. Then Sir Gaylord beat him in a seven-furlong race and, while Ridan had never run any farther, his backers insisted that he still would show he could handle a distance.

He failed them miserably in the Everglades. And he had no excuse.

Because Ridan took the lead away from a longshot named Brown, Bulldog just before they headed into the stretch and had it all going for him. That's when Sir Gaylord ran up and looked him in the eye and found him wanting.

Sir Gaylord cruised on home to win by four and three-quarter lengths while Ridan finished third and lost even that on a foul claim.

Valenzuela found it as easy as riding in a rocking chair.

"I wallowed him a couple of times going down the stretch," he grinned. "He has a habit of losing once in a while so I just hit him a couple to keep his mind on his business."

"I started riding quarter horses in 1948," he recounted. "Then I got my big chance at Denver in 1951 and ever since I've been getting my share of good horses. I certainly can't kick about it. Anyhow, not now."

He rode Sir Gaylord flawlessly, keeping him a well-placed third until the head of the stretch.

"I had a good hold on him and once I let him go he got with it real quick," Milo said. "He's a nice easy-going colt with a great disposition. Nothing tricky about him and you can do anything with him."

Like maybe winning the triple crown?

"Well, I'll tell you this," Milo smiled happily. "I think he can run all day."

He looked it, too, as he busted the Ridan bubble with a great big pop.

Tombstones Tell

Quaint Tales

CONCORD, N. H. (UPI) — A person visiting out-of-the-way cemeteries in rural New Hampshire can find such inscriptions as this one on a stone in Washington Village:

Here lies the leg of Captain Samuel Jones which was amputated July 1807."

Town folklore says Jones was a carpenter, whose leg was seriously injured when he was caught between heavy timbers while building the old town house. The leg was amputated and buried.

He lived 20 more years, died and was buried in Massachusetts. However, the grave and marker for his amputated leg remained in Washington Village.

The small stone has been stolen from the cemetery several times but always has been returned.

A quaint epitaph on a tombstone in Hillsborough ways:

Amos Symonds was born Sept. 9, 1779. Became pious in 1819. Entered Dartmouth College in 1821 and died Nov. 3, 1822."

Another for Sam L. Willoughby, who died in 1817, says:

"O, friend beware and do prepare
To meet the monster
death;
For he may come when
in your prime
And steal away your breath."

Another in Hillsborough reads:

"Stranger, pause as you pass by—
As you are now, so once was I
As I am now so you must be Prepare to die and follow me."

A man by the unlikely name of Europe Hamlin also is buried in Hillsborough.

"Quarterback" Greene Plays Last Contest

Murray State College's basketball team ends its rebuilding season here to night with an Ohio Valley Conference skirmish with Tennessee Tech's Golden Eagles.

Coach Cal Luther's Racers, who ran their overall record to 13-11 Wednesday night with an 80-74 victory over Arkansas State at Jonesboro, Ark., can tie Tech for fourth place in the final loop standings by winning this season finale.

Tech stands 6-5 in conference play, and Murray, which took a 102-86 beating from the Golden Eagles at Cookeville, stands 5-6 in loop firing.

While tonight's contest will end Murray State's 1961-62 hardwood campaign it also will mark the end of the collegiate career of Ron Greene, one of the finest playmaking guards in MSC's recent history.

Greene, the lone senior starter this season, is a big reason why Luther's charges have clinched a winning season. The 6-3 sharpshooter from Terre Haute, Ind., has been the "quarterback" on a team that has started four sophomores in nearly every contest.

Hitting a good scoring stride during the last half of the season, Greene has upped his point average to nearly 15 points a game, second only to 6-6 sophomore Jim Jennings, who sports a scoring output just less than 21 points per encounter.

Greene leads his team in both field goal and free throw percentage and easily is among the leaders—if not the leader—in assists.

Another Racer winding up his collegiate campaign tonight is Donnie Williams, a 6-5 forward who has seen action in more than half of the Racers' games.

A preliminary contest between the freshmen squad and a team made up of former MSC stars will precede the Tech-Murray encounter.

The frosh game starts at 6 p.m., the varsity contest at 8 p.m.

Doctor Discovers Power Of Words

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Feb. 23 — Back in '26, the year he started medical practice, Dr. Hilton S. Reed prescribed a "daily stroll on the boardwalk" for an ailing attorney. Today, 35 years later, attorney Charles Moore, now 87, still obeys that faded "walking paper" prescription, reports "Medicine at Work," a publication for physicians. Through the years Dr. Reed estimates he's written 70 thousand prescriptions for the nondrug type. He said his patients seem to love the written instructions. Some of the typical orders: —for an overly superstitious woman: "Make a study of voodoo and witchcraft." —for a man who hated his boss: "Spend five minutes a day for a week jotting down all his good traits." —for a young married couple: "Spend a weekend in a log cabin." —for an overspending wife: "Cancel your charge accounts."

Mrs. Howard Olila
Presents Program
For Magazine Club

Mrs. Howard Olila presented the program at the annual luncheon meeting of the Magazine Club held at the Murray Woman's Club House on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

"I Hear America Singing" was the theme of the very beautiful program presented in narration and song by Mrs. Olila with Mrs. John Winter as her accompanist on the piano.

Mrs. Olila discussed the effect of different types of music has on the people and the musical tastes of the American people. She said that all people of the world have contributed to the field of American music.

Solos sung by Mrs. Olila were "Morning," "Black Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair," "Adam and Eve," "If I Could Tell You" by Isabel Firestone, "The Girl That I Marry," and "Without a Song."

Mrs. Olila closed the program by leading the group in singing "Yankee Doodle," "Down In The Valley," and "My Old Kentucky Home."

This was the first of the series of programs on the club theme for the year, "American Heritage." Mrs. L. E. Owen is the program chairman for the year.

Mrs. J. A. Outland, president, presided at the meeting and introduced the ladies on program. She also welcomed the members and the large group of guests.

The tables were attractively decorated in the colors of red, white, and blue with a lovely arrangement of red carnations, white stock, and blue flowers with small flags on pedestals in the center. The place cards were in the same colors and had a flag on each one with the words, "America Sings," and musical notes on them.

More New Books Are Added To Murray-Calloway Library

New books continue to be added to the local library's collection as the Purchase Regional Library continues to develop and grow. Today, there were 64 new books valued at $292.15 delivered to date, a total of 1,211 books at a cost of $5,668.40, plus one set of Americana Encyclopedias (cost $199.50), presented to the Murray-Calloway County Library since the development of the Regional Library last July — just seven months ago.

Representative copies of today's new books include: Hans Christian Andersen's Thumbelina with beautiful color illustrations by Adrienne Adams can be considered one of the most charming children's books on any library shelf. The tiny little girl, no taller than your thumb, who appeared in a tulip plant, had so many experiences to share with our youngsters that she is never forgotten.

The Civil War Centennial continues to inspire writers to give us stirring novels about this period of our country. Some reviews of Stark Young's So Red the Rose read thus: "A splendid novel of Mississippi plantation life and spirit during the Civil War. Written in the tradition of the novel at its beautiful best... It takes us within the hearts and lives of the deep South planter families of seventy years ago. It is a finely detailed and beautifully wrought picture of an utterly vanished order." The Boston Herald. "The endless saga of the death of the old South is stirring and brilliantly added to. This is a novel of vital beauty, a hardy romance pitted with realism, filled with tragedy but told with wit." The New York Times.

The United Nations gives us Hi Neighbor. This book will introduce to you, children from India, Guinea, Poland, Iran, and Mexico. There are stories to read, pictures and maps to look at, clothes, toys, and recipes to make and songs to sing. Each country is presented in a little different way, depending on the information available and the content of some of the stories. Any young reader who would like to know more about the work of UNICEF all over the world will find much information about its activities in Hi Neighbor.

Ishi in two worlds is a biography of the last wild Indian in North America by Theodora Kroeber. The life story of Ishi, the Yahi Indian, lone survivor of a doomed tribe, is unique in the annals of North American anthropology. It is also a tragic and absorbing drama that forms part of our own heritage of the land. This story is an unusual and enthralling.

Wildcats Top MCH Colts Here 41-24
The Farmington Wildcats led at the end of every quarter stop along the way to an 80-71 triumph over invading Murray College. High but looked back in each quarter at a stubborn Colt squad. College High trailed by a whopping 17 points, 41-24, at the half-time intermission but galloped into contention in the third frame with a 29 point output that closed the gap to three points, 56-53, the Wildcats marshalled their forces and managed to salvage the nine point victory.

Koenecke and Hendon were the big guns for the Colts with 22 and 13 points in that order. Farmer took scoring honors and led the victors with 23 points.

grossing one and the manner of its telling will surely put it in the forefront of our literature about the American Indian. Ishi was, to one of his white friends, the most remarkable personality of this century. All this and more Mrs. Kroeber has vividly imparted to the reader.

But Not in Shame is John Toland's dramatic story of the six months after Pearl Harbor. These were the months during which American soldiers, sailors, and marines — as well as civilians — fought bravely with what they had to stem the greatest series of military disasters in our history. The book begins with the day before the Pearl Harbor attack, and ends six months later with the stunning victory which unexpectedly turned the tide — the Battle of Midway. More than an exciting narrative of battles and leaders, it is a story of the individuals on both sides who took part in the most critical decisions and momentous events.
